

I'm not robot!

To my spouse, children, or guardian:

Upon my demise it is requested that you DO NOT dispose of any of my research and genealogical records, books, files, notebooks or computer programs for a period of two years.

During this time period, please attempt to find one or more persons who would be willing to take custody of the said materials and the responsibility of maintaining and continuing the family histories and research. In the event you do not find anyone to accept these materials, please contact a historical or genealogical organization that I have been a member of to determine if they will accept some parts or all of my materials. (List of organizations and address at bottom).

Please remember that my genealogical and historical research endeavours consumed a great deal of time, travel and money. Therefore please do not ignore my requests.

Discharge Summary Samples

DISCHARGE DIAGNOSES:

1. Acute anterior wall myocardial infarction.
2. Two-vessel coronary artery disease.
3. Ischemic cardiomyopathy with an ejection fraction of approximately 45%.
4. Hypercholesterolemia.
5. Smoker.
6. Family history of coronary disease.

PROCEDURES: On 03/18/2004 the patient underwent emergent cardiac catheterization. The study showed an ejection fraction of 45% with anterolateral and apical akinesis and mild mitral regurgitation. The patient had a 90% proximal left anterior descending artery stenosis with thrombus as well as a 20% mid left anterior descending artery stenosis. There is a 20% to 30% proximal circumflex lesion. A large branching obtuse marginal had a 70% stenosis at its bifurcation. The proximal RCA had a 30% to 40% stenosis of mild diffuse disease. The patient underwent PCI of the left anterior descending artery with a 3.0 x 18 mm Cypher stent with 0% residual stenosis and TIMI III flow.

DISCHARGE MEDICATIONS: Zocor 40 mg q. d., aspirin 81 mg q. d., Plavix 75 mg q. d., Coreg 3.125 mg q. d. and DetroL LA 4 mg q. d.

HOSPITAL COURSE: The patient presented to the emergency room on 03/18/2004 with complaints of chest pain and EKG findings of acute anterior wall myocardial infarction. She was brought emergently to the catheterization laboratory with findings as above. After intervention she had no further chest pain concerning for angina.

The patient was started on the usual post myocardial infarction medications including and ACE inhibitor and beta-blocker. With these medications she became quite hypertensive with systolic pressures in the 70s. The medications were held and with IV fluids her blood pressure increased to a baseline systolic in the 90s to low 100s. Coreg is now being re-instituted at a very low dose (3.125 mg now b.i.d.).

The patient was otherwise feeling well with no dizziness, lightheadedness or syncope and no complaints of dyspnea. She was walking up in the halls without difficulty. On 03/22/2004 she was feeling well and was discharged to home.

DISCHARGE INSTRUCTIONS AND FOLLOW UP: The patient will continue with medications as above. We are arranging follow up for her on Friday, 03/26/2004 before she returns to Michigan. We will obtain a surface echocardiogram this week in our office to assess her LV function post intervention and rule out any significant valvular disease. She should do no lifting for the next several days and after returning home she should enroll in a cardiac rehabilitation program. We discussed the critical importance of smoking cessation and she does seem motivated to remain tobacco free. We also discussed the importance of a low fat, low cholesterol diet.

The doctors excuse for school is a very important document and it is important to ensure that the real information required are captured to make it a legal document. It is actually not as difficult as it seems and has some striking resemblance with the Doctors Note for work template. The following steps are expected to help us create a Doctors Note for school. Step 1. The first thing is to open a fresh document on any word processing application. However, it is better to have a paper with official letterhead of the health facility where the doctor's note is to be originated from. Step 2. Put the title of the document. For example, "Doctors Note for School" or "Dentist Note for School" etc. Step 3. Include the name of the doctor, his or her contact address and the contact phone number if these are not included in the letterhead. Step 4. Include the current date, name, position and contact information of the recipient which could be the school administrators. In this case, the recipient will be the institution. Step 5. Start the Doctors note by providing details or general information about the injury or medical condition of the patient. For example, the general information may say a patient has a leg injury while more detailed information may include the extent and specifics of the leg injury. Step 6. You can include the specific jobs the patient can or cannot perform, how long they are expected not to perform them or the length of time the patient or employee is expected to be out of the class. Step 7. Include the students contact information such as the email address and contact phone number in case the School administration decides to ask further questions from the student. Note, this not compulsory, however, it is done in case of eventualities. Step 8. Include a column for further comment and the Doctors signature without which the document will be regarded as invalid. We all need a doctor's note at some point in our lives when medical conditions interfere with our other responsibilities. At times you may have wondered, how can I get a doctor's note? Request a Doctor's Note >>> In some cases, the hassle of setting up an appointment, traveling to the office, and asking for a physical note just seems like too much effort, especially when you're feeling sick. For some, this kind of effort may make it not worth getting the note, or even impossible if your doctor doesn't have an appointment available. If you've ever experienced this dilemma, you're not alone. Minor medical conditions that might not otherwise be worth the effort or cost for a note place you in the difficult position of deciding between your health, and your commitments. Fortunately, PlushCare is here to help. You can talk to an online doctor and get a doctor's note through PlushCare. Our board-certified physicians are highly trained and can diagnose your condition and prescribe any necessary medications. Do You Have To Pay For A Doctor's Note? Doctor's notes are a free accommodation provided you pay to receive medical care. At PlushCare, the average insured patient pays less than $25. We also accept uninsured patients for $129 an appointment. PlushCare provides the medical treatment you need from your own home, and even gets you a primary or urgent care doctor's note when you need one. Appointments as low as $20. Use our cost checker to see what you'll pay. Check My Cost What is a Doctor's Note? A doctor's note, otherwise known as a doctor's excuse, is a piece of paper received from a medical professional to prove that you saw a doctor. It is a legal document produced either directly by the doctor or their office administration that affirms you had an appointment. Forging such a document by using a doctor's note template is illegal and unethical. However, it is not uncommon for people to try to use a fake doctor's note to get out of commitments at school or work. For some, you might even be showing symptoms but are unable to make an appointment in time to justify your absence. Whatever the case, a real doctor's note is always the smart option. Luckily now, it's the easy choice too! Getting a doctor's note from an online doctor is the same as getting a note from an in-person doctor. How to Get a Doctor's Note With PlushCare, you can get a doctor's note online. Our doctors conduct virtual appointments across the United States via telephone or video calls for any number of medical conditions. Here is a step-by-step overview of how you can get a doctor's note with PlushCare: First, schedule a virtual doctor's appointment at a time that is convenient for you on the PlushCare mobile app or website. Then, meet with your doctor online at your scheduled time. A board-certified physician from one of the top 50 U.S. medical schools will listen to you and answer your questions you may have. Our trusted medical professionals can examine your symptoms, give a diagnosis, and write you any necessary prescriptions or treatment plans, along with a doctor's note. When to Get a Note From Your Doctor You should get a doctor's note when you have a condition or appointment that will interfere with your ability to attend work or school normally. This may include: Illness Injury Extended absence Common Conditions Doctors Write Notes For Doctor's Note For Contagious Illness If you are contagious, it is your responsibility to protect the health of your coworkers and customers by staying home, especially during the COVID-19 pandemic. If you are experiencing symptoms resembling COVID-19, it is advisable for you to see a doctor and get a doctor's note to be excused from work or school. This is because COVID-19 is a highly contagious illness, and being excused will provide you with the needed time to recover while keeping others safe. Returning to work once you're better will mean you are more productive and efficient in your job. Further, getting those around you sick only hurts the output of the whole workplace. Thus, getting an official doctor's note for missing work will help maintain the health and well-being of yourself and your co-workers. Some common illnesses include: The common cold Stomach viruses The flu Doctor's Note For Injury Most workplaces consider an injury that inhibits your ability to perform your job reasonably to be an appropriate need for sick leave. Supervisors usually prefer their employees to be working efficiently, rather than dragging out the length of an injury and working below capacity all the while. Doctor's Note for Medical Appointment Some workplaces allow you to use sick days to attend doctor appointments. This healthy habit prepares you to maintain proper health and reduces your likelihood of needing sick leave in the future. Doctor's Note for Diagnosed Medical Condition Make sure to notify the human resources department when you start a new job about any pre-existing medical conditions you may have. If you require regular appointments of scheduled rest time, provide your employer with proper documentation from a medical professional. Doctor's Note For Hospitalization If your condition requires hospitalization or treatment by a medical professional, you can use sick days to cover your absences. Discuss your extended leave options with your human resources department. Doctor's Note For Pregnancy or Delivery Pregnancy and delivery are usually covered by the Family and Medical Leave Act to provide coverage for work days missed due to pregnancy-related reasons. Your employer may also have a policy related to prenatal care and paternal leave. Doctor's Note for School If you have a contagious illness or a condition that affects your ability to attend school, you can request a doctor's note for school from one of our doctors. After you are diagnosed by a physician, if they see that it's necessary, they can write you a doctor's note for school. Doctor's Note for Remote Work If you have a medical condition that increases your risk of a severe illness from COVID-19 and need to request accommodation in order to continue working remotely, you may be able to submit a doctor's note to your employer. Review your company's guidelines or talk to your HR representative to learn more. Extended Medical Leave and Doctors' Notes If you will be missing work for an extended period of time, such as more than one week, you typically need to provide an official doctor's note to your employer. Having a note will allow you to be covered by the federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) while you are on leave. You should know that, due to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), the doctor is not allowed to specify your diagnosis in the note unless you provide permission. The doctor still may have to include scheduled treatment dates that interfere with your ability to be at work. Review your company's extended medical leave policy to learn more. What Does a Doctor's Note Need to Say? A doctor's note needs to include the following information: The date when you had your doctor's appointment The medical reason why you had to miss work If any time of absence from work is required Doctor's Note Template To get a legitimate doctor's note, you must speak with a doctor. If you are wondering what a doctor's note looks like, here is an example template that shows the typical format of a note. Now that you know what a doctor's note looks like, you can schedule an appointment to get a real doctor's note. Filling out a doctor's note template with false information or forging a doctor's signature is unethical and illegal. Think twice before forging a doctor's note, there are serious consequences. PlushCare makes getting a real doctor's note even more convenient than faking a note, while eliminating the risks. Our doctors operate in all 50 states and same day appointments are available every 15 minutes. Book an appointment What is the Role of a Doctor's Note For Work? A doctor's note for work performs three critical tasks. It verifies the necessity of your visit, recommends the length of absence necessary, and mentions any special accommodations you may need in order to return to work. How Do I Get a Doctor's Note from PlushCare? All PlushCare doctors are highly qualified and experienced to provide online diagnoses and treatment for telehealth patients. To get a doctor's note from PlushCare, you would start by making an appointment with an online PlushCare doctor. During your video or phone appointment, the doctor will help review your symptoms, medical history, and current medications. If the doctor deems a note to be medically necessary, then they will send you a doctor's note. PlushCare is HIPAA-compliant; we value your privacy and use secure electronic record systems to keep your personal health information safe. Just click here to make an appointment and receive a doctor's note for work, school, or any other commitments in your life.
